

Products You Never Knew That Had PPI Attached.

You could be owed £1000s.

Mortgage PPI

Did you know some mortgages had PPI (Payment Protection Insurance)? In fact some additional borrowing for home improvements even had PPI added, often without the the customers knowing they had it.

Store cards

Claim £1000s in missold PPI on store cards. 100,000s of customers with big lenders like Capital One, MBNA, Natwest, Lloyds and more were missold Payment Protection Insurance.

Catalogue PPI

PPI was not just limited to banks and lenders. In fact during the PPI boom catalogues who offered finance often sold the package with payment protection insurance attached. Some of the big names were Littlewoods, Freemans, Great Universal, Shop Direct to name a few.

Car finance PPI

PPI was introduced to cover monthly repayments if ever the customer died, fell ill or had an accident. Most car finance deals sold in the past had the added insurance attached.

Buy now pay later deals

If you've bought something on a Buy Now Pay Later deal, chances are you could have had PPI attached to the finance agreement. Whether that's a sofa, dishwasher, or any household appliance that was purchased on credit.

Home shopping

Were you aware Home Shopping Personal Finance sold PPI as part of their finance agreements? In fact - household name Very who use Shop Direct Finance Company offered PPI on finance deals when buying on credit.

checkout >

